Sarvajanik Education Society, Surat

Spreading the Light of Knowledge Since 1912

For over a century, Sarvajanik Education Society (SES) has stood as a symbol of learning, integrity, and community in Surat. What began in 1912 with a modest English school—affectionately known as Dhingali School—has grown into a family of 33 institutions that touch the lives of more than 30,000 students every year.

Today, the Sarvajanik Education Society offers education that spans every stage of life from pre-primary classes to postgraduate studies. Our institutions cover diverse fields such as Engineering, Architecture, Management, Arts, Commerce, Science, and even classical Music. SES also proudly house three dedicated research centers that focus on languages, social sciences, and environmental studies.

Mission: Education with a Heart

SES was built on a simple belief: that education should be accessible, meaningful, and never driven by profit. For 113 years, SES relied not on private enterprise, but on the generosity of our alumni, donors, and well-wishers—many of whom are now spread across the globe. Their support is a testament to the values and education they received here.

We're proud to say that SES has earned the trust of the people of Surat—not just for the quality of education we provide, but for the transparent, community-rooted way in which we operate.

Resilience in the Face of Challenges

Like any long journey, ours has had its hardships. The 2006 floods dealt a devastating blow to our historic library and campuses. But with strength, unity, and determination, we rebuilt—stronger and more future-ready than before.

Adapting to Tomorrow

Education is constantly evolving, and so are we. In recent years, we've modernized classrooms, introduced smart learning tools, and restored our historic campuses—like the beautifully renovated T&TV Sarvajanik High School, thanks to the incredible efforts of its alumni and now, with pride and purpose, SES has stepped into a new chapter as Sarvajanik University—a forward-looking institution committed to nurturing thinkers, creators, and leaders of tomorrow.

Educational Ecosystem of Sarvajanik Education Society
