Women Development Cell

SUBMISSION WINDOW:

8th March 2026 to 31st March 2026

Evaluation: 7th May 2026

Prize Distribution Ceremony: 8th August 2026

CO-ORDINATED BY
Dr. Kaushika Pal

Objective:

The objective of Samantavam Tejaswini 2026 was to promote gender sensitisation and women empowerment by recognising and honoring women of Teaching & Non-Teaching Staff of SU whose journeys reflect exceptional courage, resilience, perseverance, determination, contribution and the spirit of service. The initiative aimed to acknowledge not only their professional and personal achievements but also the challenges and adversities they overcame, thereby highlighting the strength behind their journeys. It sought to create a culture of appreciation, empathy and mutual support by bringing attention to inspiring stories of women and encouraging the wider Sarvajanik University community to recognize and celebrate their contributions across diverse spheres. The programme also aimed to inspire others, strengthen the values of dignity, equality and empowerment and further the objectives of the Women Development Cell in fostering a supportive and gender-sensitive institutional environment.

The initiative was envisioned by our Honorable President, Shri Ashish Vakil Sir, which aimed to recognize women of Teaching and Non-teaching staff of Sarvajanic University whose journeys reflect exceptional courage, resilience, perseverance, contribution and spirit of service — celebrating not just achievements but the strength behind their journeys. The initiative received the continued support of our Honorable Provost, Dr. Kiran Pandya Sir and Registrar, Shri Ashish Desai Sir, whose encouragement has been instrumental in supporting WDC activities.

The winners were announced in the Prize Distribution & Recognition Ceremony on 8 August 2026. Ms. Tejal Surati, Laboratory Assistant, Department of Computer Applications, SCET, was honored as the winner of “Samantavam Tejaswini 2026” for her remarkable courage and perseverance in overcoming cancer and a serious road accident, while continuing her contributions through SES, Nature Club, corporate training, wildlife photography, and service. Prof. Bhumika Bhatt and Prof. Snehal Gandhi were appreciated for the distinctive strength reflected in their individual journeys — celebrating resilience, inner growth, courage and determination. The award was presented to the winners by the Chief Guest, Dr. Parul Vadagama, during the Prize Distribution and Recognition Ceremony. Their stories remind us that every woman has a story of strength and not every battle is visible.
